FINE & DECORATIVE ARTS

Our experts can advise clients with regard to the acquisition, sale, maintenance, and insurance of works of art. For those who are interested in this field only for investment purposes, loans of their collections or individual pieces will be coordinated to result in substantial insurance and storage expense savings. We monitor all important auction sales and private transactions (when information is available) in order to keep clients regularly informed relative to their own collections.

GEMSTONES & JEWELRY

The universal appeal of gemstones and jewelry should draw the attention of the sophisticated investor not only for aesthetic reasons. We retain the services of an experienced and certified gemologist to offer advice on the acquisition and sale of gemstones and jewelry, safekeeping, insurance, and certification.

A FINAL WORD ON SERVICE

Officers of Private Asset Management Group are at the clients' disposal at any time upon request for private consultations anywhere in the world. Unless specifically authorized by the client, all correspondence is retained in our offices or delivered by hand by one of our officers. Because our staff is composed of highly specialized and dedicated private investment experts who manage a relatively small number of very important accounts, we are able to give individual attention to each account. We are therefore flexible, efficient, and discreet.
